W. H. HALL,

Acting Statistician.

Government Statistician's Office,

Sydney, 12th May, 1906.

MEMORANDA.

Population.—The latest estimate of the population shows that the enlarged rate of increase, apparent last year, is still maintained. During the first three months of 1906 the total increase was 8,650, or at the rate of 2·3 per cent. per annum. Of this increase, 6,015 was due to excess of births, and 2,635 to excess of immigration. During the quarter the population passed 1½ millions.

Trade.—The imports during April were valued at £2,564,161, which is £573,597 more than the corresponding month of last year. For the first four months there was an increase of £804,679, as compared with last year. The direct oversea imports during the month amounted to £1,326,092, as compared with £888,075 in April, 1905. During the four months there was a falling-off in tobacco, dried fruits, and gold, while increases were shown in apparel and soft goods, drugs, metals, and machinery.

The oversea exports for April amounted to £1,875,781, and for the first four months to £9,844,472, which show increases of £724,462 and £3,106,806 respectively, compared with the corresponding periods of last year. There were increases in all the principal articles, especially butter, wool, and gold. Wheat, however, shows a falling-off.

Banks of Issue.—The banking averages for the quarter ended 31st March show that the advances are now smaller than at any time during the last ten years, while the deposits have never been exceeded. At the end of the quarter the deposits exceeded the advances by £7,298,332, there having been during the three months a decrease in advances of £842,950, and an increase in deposits of £1,831,985. Current accounts increased by £1,217,388 compared with the corresponding quarter of 1905; deposits were £3,356,507 greater, reserves of coin and bullion were £1,770,017 greater, while, on the other hand, advances were £376,557 less. The total bank clearances in Sydney during the quarter amounted to £69,535,926, an increase of £10,581,867 as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1905.

Railways.—The report on Railways and Tramways for the quarter ended 31st March indicates a remarkable degree of prosperity. Compared with the corresponding quarter of 1905, the net earnings show an increase of £100,011, and during the first nine months of the financial year the net gain amounted to £346,397. In all branches of traffic, but especially the goods, there has been a great improvement. Relatively, during the nine months the net earnings increased by over 30 per cent. In working expenses the increase was only 3 per cent., notwithstanding a large addition to the train mileage.

Gold Production.—The gold yield during the first four months of the year was valued at £436,336, and showed an increase of £110,160 over the yield during the corresponding period of last year.

Prices.—The general index number for April was slightly higher than in March, and was the highest for five years, being over 25 per cent. higher than in 1901. The index number for pastoral produce was 1,324; for metals, 1,393; and for all articles, 1,262. During the month tin and copper advanced greatly, while the other articles remained practically stationary.

Meteorology.—During the first half of the month rain was general, but light, over the north-eastern half of the State. During the second half, the rain was fairly evenly distributed over the whole State, but still lightly. Generally, the falls during the month were below the average.
